DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 8 and 9 are considered vague and indefinite because they appear to be introducing elements already presented in independent claim 1. Claim 8 introduces means to affix, however these means appear to be depending tangs introduced in claim 1. Similarly, claim 9 introduces a tang, but claim 1 has already introduced depending tangs.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
5. Claims 1-9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morehead (U.S. 4,537,326) in view of DE 29504427. Morehead teaches a ring pull, shown in figures 16-18, having openings at 150 and depending tangs 152 and 154 which engage opposite sides of the container outlet. Morehead does not teach that the depending tangs projecting from the underside of the ring pull, they project from the sides of the ring pull. DE 29504427 teaches that it is known to provide depending tangs which project from a lower surface (see figure 2g). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the container of Morehead with the depending tangs extending from the lower surface instead of the sides of the ring pull, as taught by DE 29504427, in order to reduce the overall size of the ring pull and protect the depending tangs from damage.

Regarding claim 4, the modified container of Morehead does not mention the exact width of the slot. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the modified container of Morehead with the slot being less than or equal to 3.5 mm, since a change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 6, the recess of the edge of the pull ring is considered to be the groove formed by the tangs, into which the rim of the opening is received.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

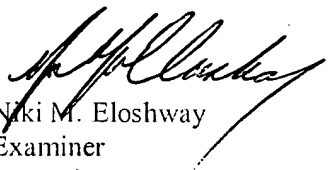

Art Unit: 3727

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
